Travel Smart, stay connected

Travel Agency Partnership — Outreach Email Drafts

Three ready-to-send proposal emails for travel agencies, each taking a different strategic angle. Bracketed fields like [Agency Name], [Your Name], [X]%, and the app store links are placeholders to fill in before sending.

Draft 1 — New Revenue Stream

Leads with the commission and the agency's bottom line. Best for agencies that think in margins and ancillary revenue.

A new revenue stream for [Agency Name] — eSIM for your travelers

Hi [First Name],

I'm [Your Name] from RoamDigi. We provide travel eSIMs that give your clients instant mobile data the moment they land abroad — no roaming bills, no airport SIM queues, no physical chip to swap.

I'm reaching out because eSIMs have become one of the simplest add-ons a travel agency can offer. Every client traveling overseas needs connectivity, and most either overpay for roaming or land without a plan. By offering RoamDigi, [Agency Name] can solve that for them and earn on every sale.

What your clients get:

- Coverage across 190+ countries on a single eSIM profile
- Instant activation — they buy a plan, receive a QR code by email, scan it, and they're connected in minutes
- A cloud-based system that automatically connects them to the best available local carrier for stable, high-speed data
- Compatibility with most modern devices (Apple, Samsung, Google)

What's in it for [Agency Name]:

- Earn [X]% commission on every package your clients buy
- No tech setup — we can start with a simple referral link or co-branded code
- A smoother trip for your clients, which reflects well on you

Would you be open to a quick 15-minute call this week? I'd be glad to share our partner rates and set you up with a sample plan to try yourself.

Best regards,

[Your Name]

Draft 2 — Customer Experience

Leads with the traveler's pain point and positions the agency as the hero. Best for relationship-driven or premium agencies.

Help your travelers stay connected abroad — effortlessly

Hi [First Name],

When your clients land in a new country, one of the first things they reach for is their phone — and too often that means surprise roaming charges or a frustrating hunt for a local SIM.

I'm [Your Name] from RoamDigi. We offer travel eSIMs that let travelers buy a data plan before they leave and connect the moment they land, with coverage across 190+ countries on one profile. Our system automatically connects them to the best local carrier, so they get stable, high-speed data without ever touching a physical SIM.

For an agency like [Agency Name], offering RoamDigi means your clients travel with one less thing to worry about — and they'll remember that you're the one who made their trip smoother. It's a small add-on that quietly raises the quality of every booking you handle, while opening a new revenue line for you through our [partner commission].

It's genuinely simple for them: buy a plan, get a QR code by email, scan it, done — works on most Apple, Samsung, and Google devices.

Draft 3 — Short & Direct

A low-friction cold email that just asks for a call. Best for high-volume outreach where brevity wins replies.

Quick idea for [Agency Name] — eSIM add-on for your travelers

Hi [First Name],

I'm [Your Name] from RoamDigi — we provide travel eSIMs that give travelers instant data in 190+ countries the moment they land, with no roaming fees and no physical SIM. They just scan a QR code emailed after purchase and they're online in minutes.

A lot of agencies now offer this as a paid add-on: clients get seamless connectivity, and the agency earns a commission on every sale. Setup takes minutes — no technical work on your side.

Have a look and you'll see how simple it is:
